BPM

Juggling concert

Musical theater, musical choreography or rhythmic experience : BPM is a concert where juggling becomes percussion and comes into live through music...

Musicians transform their objects and bodies into musical instruments, balls and bounces into notes, for an unclassifiable concert with 2 body-percussionnists-jugglers and a multi-instrumentalist musician (piano, bass, melodica, MAO)... 3 passionate rhythms addicts, exploring music such as Indian rap, funk and electro...

A musical and human quest, where music is looked at and movement listened to!

Visual show, no speech

LOOK AT MUSIC AND LISTEN TO MOVEMENT

« BPM, as a Juggling Concert, place the juggler as a musician, and his objects as real instruments : incorporating bounces, shots and trajectories of balls in the musical composition and body-percussion choreography.

A practice where we look at music and listen to movement. »

Frédéric PERANT, Artistic Director

« Fred Compagnie Poc the sedentary juggler who stormed the Blackpool Convention Gala last February, repeated his triumph, getting a standing ovation for his incredibly precise ball bouncing skills. An unusual act and as most of it is performed while seated, unlike that of any other juggler I have yet seen » Magic Week <http://www.magicweek.co.uk>

« Compagnie Poc from France had the magicians clamouring for more with an incredible hat juggling and ball sequence that saw the Opera House rise to its feet. » GENII Magazin 2012
